

DIAMOND DIVAS

The Complete Catalog

Handmade diamond art — every Diva has a story.

FLORA

The Bloom

$50 · 12" × 12"

She planted her first garden in her hair when she was nine and never took it out. Every braid is a different color because every year of her life deserved its own. Ask which one is her favorite and she'll tell you about her grandmother instead.

VERDE

The Keeper

$50 · 12" × 12"

She keeps other people's secrets the way she wears emerald — close, and forever. The white bloom at her crown was a gift from someone she never named. She turns her face away because she already knows what you're going to say.

SOLENE

The Sunflower

$50 · 12" × 12"

Flowers instead of a halo, laughing straight up at the light. She lost everything once and answered by planting sunflowers. Joy is her whole strategy, and it has never failed her yet.

REINE

The Silhouette

$50 · 12" × 12"

All crystal, no color — she gave up needing to be noticed a long time ago. She stands in the doorway of the room and the chandelier follows her instead. Rooms remember her after she leaves.

ADELLE

The Debut

$50 · 12" × 12"

Pearl drops fall from her shoulders like the rain on the night she was born — or so her mother swore. She was made for one entrance and she has never needed a second. Everyone remembers exactly where they were standing.

OPALINE

The Encore

$50 · 12" × 12"

Her stones change color depending on where you stand — which is also true of her opinions. Iridescent, weightless, gone before the applause finishes. She only ever comes back once, and only if you ask properly.

NADIRA

The Coronation

$50 · 12" × 12"

Two silver wings of crystal and a curtain of pearls. Nobody invited her to the ceremony; the ceremony rearranged itself around her. She is not attending — she is the occasion.

CAMILLE

The Veil

$50 · 12" × 12"

Wide-brimmed, eyes closed, pearls to the collarbone. She has heard every compliment already and is resting between them. Do not mistake the stillness for sleep — she misses nothing.

PRETTY

The Signature

$50 · 12" × 12"

Gold hoops, soft light, one word set in stone. Her mother gave her the name before she was born and dared the world to disagree. Some Divas need a story — she just needed the signature.

BIJOU

The Bouquet

$50 · 12" × 12"

Pearls bloom beside her like a bush that only flowers at night. She grew them herself, in secret, the way she grows everything she loves. She never turns to look — she knows they're there.

ROSALIND

The Blush

$50 · 12" × 12"

Rose crystal from her hat to her heels, a butterfly waiting on her shoulder. The butterfly arrives every spring and no one can explain it. Soft on the outside only — ask anyone who tested her.

PERLE

The Sovereign

$50 · 12" × 12"

Pearls stacked into a crown that keeps going down her shoulders. She inherited the first strand and earned every one after it. She looks past you on purpose — you haven't been introduced yet.

ZAHARA

The Sapphire

$60 · 11" × 14"

Blue stones at her ear, gold on her lids, a wrap of pearls above it all. She crossed an ocean with one suitcase and never once sounded tired. Quiet — and completely in charge.

FLEUR

The Wildflower

$50 · 12" × 12"

Every flower she owns is in her hair at once. The butterflies followed her home from the market one Tuesday and simply stayed. She feeds them gossip; they seem to prefer it.

KIKI

The Secret

$50 · 12" × 12"

Jeweled hood, finger to her lips, a ring the size of a promise. She knows what you did, when, and why — and she has decided to keep it. For now, she says, smiling.

IRIS

The Rainbow

$50 · 12" × 12"

Every color she's ever loved, wrapped and stacked and worn at the same time. People told her to pick one. She picked all of them, and there is no apology anywhere on her.

NOIRE

The Diamond Veil

$50 · 12" × 12"

Crystal falls over her face like rain off a roof. She wore the veil to her own celebration so she could watch everyone without being watched. Deep skin, silver light, eyes closed in perfect peace.

AMARA

The Headwrap

$60 · 11" × 14"

Silver stacked to the sky, one hand resting at her cheek, a blue stone burning at her throat. She learned the wrap from her mother, who learned it from hers. She lets you look — that's the lesson.

JOSEPHINE

The Duet

$50 · 12" × 12"

Two figures, one pearl hat, a green heel between them. She never goes anywhere without her own reflection; they argue about shoes and agree about everything else. Twice the woman, half the patience.

MARGOT

The Daisy

$50 · 12" × 12"

Black and crystal against warm peach, one small daisy where nobody expects it. The daisy is for her sister. Her whole story is that flower — and she'll tell it if you ask gently.

ROSETTE

The Blush Parade

$50 · 12" × 12"

Pink pearls, a hat like a parasol, and three pairs of shoes she has not chosen between. She has been deciding since last spring. The parade, she says, can wait until she's ready.

SAPHIR

The Midnight Gown

$50 · 12" × 12"

Sapphire drops falling from her sleeves, a fan of pearls behind her. She arrives last on purpose — she timed it once, and the room applauded. The train keeps going; so does she.

GOLDIE

The Gilded

$60 · 11" × 14"

Pearl lace above, gold below, boots set with light. She dressed for herself on an ordinary Wednesday and everybody else adjusted. Gold, she insists, is a neutral.

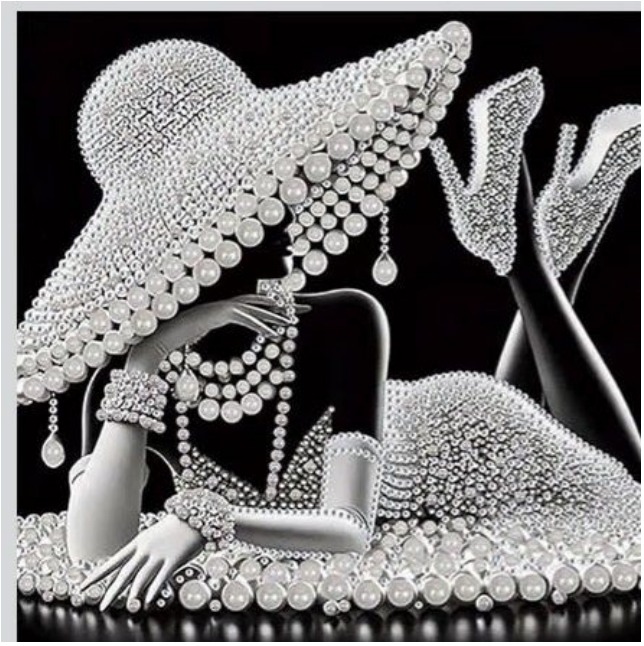

ROSÉ

The Sunhat

$50 · 12" × 12"

Blush pearls around the brim, lashes down, nails long enough to make a point. She is not asleep — she is deciding. The last person who interrupted a decision still hears about it.

MARLENE

The Recline

$50 · 12" × 12"

Pearls from the hat to the heels, against a black background that knows better than to compete. She lies down and the room still stands. Rest, she will tell you, is a position of power.

GRACE

The Believer

$25

Roses, gold, glasses, and hands folded. One word spelled out at her feet and she means every letter of it. She prayed through the storm and came out shinier.

DIAMANT

The Finale

$50 · 12" × 12"

Silver headwrap, pearls to the wrist, one hand raised like she is about to say something worth waiting for. She saved herself for last on purpose. The last Diva — and she knew it all along.

AURELIA

The Adorned

$50 · 12" × 12"

Gold chains across her brow, a flower of crystal at her temple, one ring held to her chin like she's weighing the whole room in her hand. She wears the garden and the gold at once, because choosing was never her style.

MOTO

The Ride

$50 · 12" × 12"

A cruiser paved in pearls, every spoke set in crystal, the engine lined in facets. Built for the Diva who refused to arrive quietly. Not a portrait you hang — a machine you ride, dipped in diamonds.

CAPRICE

The Whim

$25

Silver crystal from crown to collarbone, light pooling off every facet. She changes her mind hourly and has never once been wrong. Whim, she insists, is just confidence moving quickly.

BELLE

The White Rose

$25

A pearl crown, one white rose, a veil trailing down. She turns three quarters away and the whole room turns with her. The rose was left at her door with no note; she wore it anyway.

LUMIÈRE

The Floating Stones

$25

Three diamonds drifting around her head, a teardrop burning at her throat. She stopped reaching for light years ago — it comes to her now. She looks down so it can land.

LEONA

The Sunset Print

$25

Leopard from the bow to the hem, grey curls catching the last light, a heart set in the corner of the sky. She is the whole warm hour — and everything soft about her is deliberate.

RUBY

The Red Brim

$25

A scarlet hat sweeps past her shoulder, edged in pearls that catch every glimmer of light. She learned long ago that mystery needs no introduction. One lifted hand, one knowing glance, and the room belongs to her.

OLIVE

The Sunday Hat

$25

Green brim tilted just so, blooms on the side, black lace everywhere else. She always sits in the front row — and the front row, everyone agrees, is better for it.

IFE

The Beaded Crown

$50 · 12" × 12"

She wears her grandmother's beads on her head because a crown that heavy belongs somewhere it can be carried. Every color in that wrap is a year she got through, and the gold at her forehead is the one she'd live again. She doesn't explain the colors — you're welcome to sit with them.

ONYX

The Gilded Gaze

$125 · 28" × 16"

Black, silver, and gold braided up into a crown, with chandelier pearls at her ears. She keeps her eyes closed because she already saw everything coming. What she's doing now is simply enjoying the view behind her lids.

VIOLETTE

The Amethyst

$125 · 28" × 16"

A silver wrap stacked high, violet lids, and a teardrop of blue at each ear. She is the rarest color in the room and she knows exactly how rare. One hand at her jaw — she's been posed like that for an hour and hasn't tired of it.

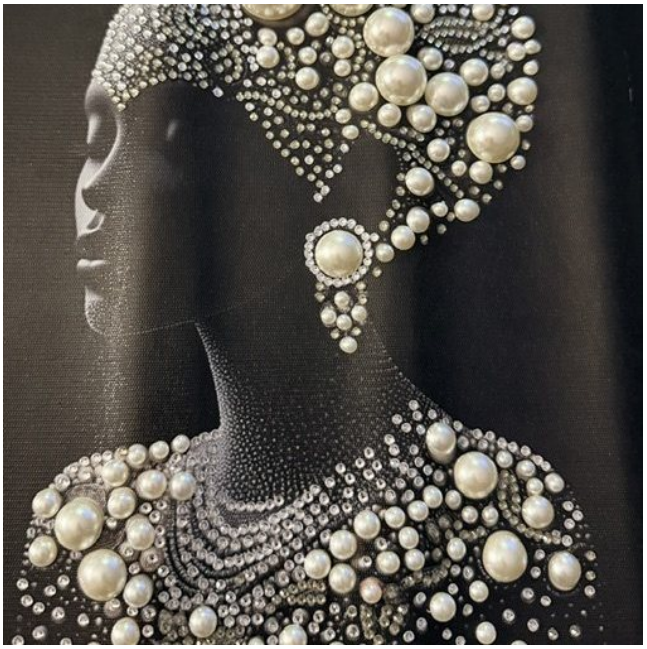

MARIGOLD

The Garden Crown

$50 · 12" × 12"

A whole garden in bloom above her — gold dahlias, pink daisies, green leaves set stone by stone. She grew every flower herself and wears them all at once, because a harvest this good deserves an audience. Butterflies attend her like old friends.

LUNA

The Moonlit Pearl

$50 · 12" × 12"

A profile in silver and pearl against the dark, every strand placed like starlight. She says nothing and the room quiets itself to listen. Some Divas shine — she glows.

Commission your own Diva

Every portrait in this catalog began as a handful of stones and a story. If you would like a Diva of your own — a portrait, a memory, a person you love set in light — reach out through the contact form at divadiamondstories.com. Thank you for welcoming a Diva into your world.